

Concept Evolution™:

Cognito

Cognito offers a world-class range of Mobile Workforce Management systems across all major GPRS/GSM UK and European networks. All Cognito solutions provide a real-time communication capability to field based personnel, thus improving workflow, reducing both administration and costs, and increasing productivity.

Features of Cognito include:

- Total management control of your mobile workforce.
- A single point of integration into Concept Evolution™.
- Audit trail functionality for complete message status.
- Packet-switched data for maximum efficiency and zero congestion.
- 'Push' and 'Pull' message delivery technology for 'always-on-line' communications.
- Capability to 'store and forward' message.
- Core services from Cognito are offered at a fixed rate per user per month, and are future proof, providing a simple and easy upgrade path for customers as new network technology becomes available (for example, 3G).

FormsPlus and Concept Evolution™

FormsPlus is a very powerful and structured application provided by Cognito to send, receive and manage the flow of information between a mobile worker and a host software system. It offers enhanced workflow management capabilities by providing real-time data capture for storage and search, and can be integrated into business solutions such as Concept Evolution™.

FSI offers a selection of FormsPlus systems and an integration module for Concept Evolution™, which provide comprehensive solutions for reactive and planned task management via the Cognito managed services network.

Additionally, FSI's development team can carry out customisation of a FormsPlus system, in order to provide a solution to suit the specific processes and needs within an organisation. Additional features of a tailored FormsPlus system could include, for example, purchase order requisitions and stock control.
